

At the University of Veterinary Medicine (TiHo) in Hannover, a GVN Center of Excellence, is a position for a

❖ Postdoc (m/w/d)

available from now on and ending 31.12.2022 with envisaged extension to 31.12.2024 in the Research Center for Emerging Infections and Zoonoses (RIZ).

The tasks include the following requirements and priorities:

Tasks

- Perform scientific research aiming at the development of an universal influenza vaccine and obtaining a better understanding of immune correlates of protection against influenza. The work will be carried out within the framework of the EU-funded project "ENDFLU"
- Project management
- Scientific reporting at international meetings, in peer-reviewed journals and to the funding bodies

Requirements

- A PhD degree in biomedical sciences or comparable
- A keen interest in immunology and virology
- Experience in these research disciplines
- Preferably experience with animal experimentation
- A proven publication track record
- Proficient in English and proficiency in German is appreciated

The employment is temporary and will be compensated at 100% working time. Potential extension of the contract until 31.12.2024 is envisaged. Depending on qualification, the salary will be based according to TV-L (E13). Disabled applicants will be given preferential consideration in the case of equal qualification.

For further information on the project please contact Prof. Dr. Guus Rimmelzwaan Guus.Rimmelzwaan@tiho-hannover.de or Prof. Dr. Albert Osterhaus Albert.Osterhaus@tiho-hannover.de.

Applications including all relevant documents should be submitted as a single pdf by 15.12.2019 to Guus.Rimmelzwaan@tiho-hannover.de and Albert.Osterhaus@tiho-hannover.de.

The application documents will be destroyed after the completion of the personnel selection procedure.

Your personal data will be treated confidentially. www.tiho-hannover.de/ds-bew.

www.tiho-hannover.de